

Updated 3/1/21

CONSULTANT + CONTRACTOR OPPORTUNITIES

Temporary Work

SEAD is seeking to grow our team and nurture our diaspora ecosystem.

To apply, please send your work portfolio link or resume and references to Katherine Nguyen at katherine@theseadproject.org. Note: If you've already applied to similar roles and there have been no updates to your application materials, please indicate it in your interest email.

Digital Organizer, Diaspora Movement Ecosystem

March - May (3 months/12 weeks) $25/hr, 15-20 hours per week

Location: Remote

Digital Organizer will create, implement, and manage rapid response content, campaigns, and political education on digital platforms (phone, email, social media, website) to mobilize communities and shift narratives on justice issues. Organizer will work closely with the communications strategist and organizing team. Must have: Seasoned digital organizing experience, highly knowledgeable about communications and mobilization tools, compelling and effective multimedia storyteller, versed on insights and issues that impact Southeast Asian diaspora communities, passionate about liberation for BIPOC communities, justice-centered. This role has the possibility of extension.

Cultural Organizer, Healing Justice

March - May (4 months/12 weeks) $25/hr, 15 hours per week

Location: Based in Minneapolis, MN / socially distant / remote possible

Cultural Organizer will develop and facilitate space-holding as a healer and grow relationships as an organizer by addressing accessible and holistic healing justice that is cross-cultural with our SEA and BIPOC communities and a specific focus on ensuring culturally-informed mental health opportunities and resources go directly to communities. Must have: Healing background (all modalities welcomed), cultural knowledge of Southeast Asian diaspora communities (Burmese, Hmong, Khmer, Lao, Vietnamese), strong facilitation skills, community organizing experience.

Community Coordinator, Mutual Aid Project

March - August (6 months/24 weeks) $25/hr, 25-30 hours per week

Location: Locally based in Minneapolis, MN / socially distant

Community Coordinator will lead the development, management, and implementation of culturally-relevant content and ensure direct access to mutual aid resources for Southeast Asian communities (specifically hard-to-reach rural and digital divide areas, vulnerable and marginalized identities). Must have: Cultural knowledge of Southeast Asian diaspora communities from Burma, Cambodia, Laos, and Vietnam, solid experience in community relations, strong skills in outreach and accessibility development, must be equity-centered. This role has the possibility of extension.

Updated 3/1/21

Cultural Arts Education & Engagement Producer

March - November (9 months/36 weeks) $35/hr, 30-35 hours per week

Location: Based in Minneapolis, MN / socially distant / remote possible

Cultural Arts Education & Engagement Producer will develop, plan, and implement innovative, radical, and educational resources, tools, workshops, and other engagement activities on Southeast Asian histories, cultures, people, and arts for the general public. Producer leads and supports facilitation alongside community knowledge experts. Producer will work closely with community partners and the creative team. Must have: Strong experience in teaching Asian American/Southeast Asian studies, passionate about ethnic studies, excellent facilitation skills, justice-oriented, well-connected with education networks, and knowledgeable about content design. Focus groups: indigenous and ethnic groups from Burma, Cambodia, Laos, and Vietnam.

Creative Leadership Manager

May - August (4 months/18 weeks) $35/hr, 30-35 hours per week

Location: Locally based in Minneapolis, MN / socially distant

The Creative Leadership Manager will plan, implement, facilitate, and manage all aspects of the SEA Change Lab leadership development program, which is a cohort model that grows emerging creatives through arts and advocacy. Must have: Cultivated and managed creative leadership development, passionate about young people ages 18-25, solid facilitation skills, and justice-oriented.